Certified Public Manager Recognition Day Proclaimed by Governor

The Arkansas Society of Certified Public Managers is proud to announce that Governor Mike Beebe has signed a proclamation that recognized May 13, 2010 as Certified Public Manager Recognition Day. Members of the Society and supporters of the CPM program were present for a formal proclamation ceremony with the Governor that morning, in advance of a graduation ceremony at the Capitol that evening for this year's graduates of the Certified Public Manager Program.

For more than 20 years, the Arkansas Public Administration Consortium, a collaborative effort of the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, and Arkansas State University, has provided a leading, nationally-accredited training and development program for public sector managers and supervisors. The public managers who have worked hard and diligently to obtain this nationally-accredited designation are among the best in government service, both at the state and local level. They have demonstrated a commitment to excellence in government and enhancing the quality of services delivered to the citizens of Arkansas.

The Society is proud to play a role in the recognition of the contributions of Certified Public Managers. For more information visit: arcpm.org
